

MIHS FALL MINI CONFERENCE RECAP

There were a few bumps along the way, but the two-part MIHS Fall Mini Conference was completed in two sessions.

The October 6 Conference included AIHA CEO, Larry Sloan; Bart Pickelman, CIH, Director of MIOSHA; Bert Schiller, CIH, who presented information on Workplace Health Without Borders; and Sean Egan, Deputy Director for Labor at the Department of Labor and Economic Opportunity (LEO) and Director of COVID-19 Workplace Safety.

The December 8 Conference included a presentation by MIHS President, Matt Macomber, on confined space alternate entry procedures. It also included a presentation on gas detection equipment by Cynthia Horn, Senior Gas Detection Professional at Industrial Scientific.

Because the conference was a virtual event, we were able to record it so you can watch it at your leisure if you missed all or part of it. The learning curve was steeper than it needed to be, but we figured it out. There are a couple ways to do recordings in WebEx, and one involves setting the recordings to download onto a device. The other method is to leave the recordings on the WebEx site and provide a link. For the October session, we did the former, which proved to be a bit of a challenge, so for the December session, we did links, which was a much easier way to go. Lesson learned!
